COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE.

TUESDAY, 17TH MARCH.

EXCHANGE on London is again higher, telegraphic advices from Calcutta giving a rise in the rate of discount at the Bank of Bengal of one per cent., indicating a tightness in the money market there, having an effect on money as well as on sterling exchange here, so that for immediate business lower rates can hardly be anticipated, but for forward business there are buyers at slightly lower rates than our to-day's closing quotations.

In Government Securities there is very little doing, and prices are lower.

The Bombay Gazette.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 18, 1874.

THE manifesto of the Prince Imperial at Chislehurst marks the entrance on the stage of French politics of a new and important character. Hitherto counted as only a boy, the Prince who inherits the name of Napoleon becomes henceforth the head of a great political party, of a party which, in spite of the misfortunes of 1870, can still probably count on the support of a majority of the French people. It is difficult not to believe that the future of France must belong to either Gambetta or Napoleon IV., and more wonderful things have happened than a coalition of the parties which these two names represent. France, since the fall of the Empire, has decisively rejected the Bourbons, and has shown marked indifference to the Republic; and the present form of government, described as the Marshalate or the Septennate, is avowedly nothing more than a temporary expedient for preserving order till the country can make up its mind how it will be governed. Much, of course, must depend on the personal character of the Prince Imperial, of which little is known; but his party are bold and enterprising, and the blunders of their adversaries must encourage them to hope that a restoration of the Empire will be effected long before the expiration of Marshal MacMahon's term of seven years. The Government of the Duc de Broglie could not have devised any better means of preparing the way for the enthusiastic reception by the people of the Prince's speech than is afforded by the new Electoral Law Bill, which disfranchises 3,000,000 voters. A similar Bill, introduced by the Republican Government of 1848, supplied the Prince's father with his best weapon for overthrowing the Republic, and, in a country in which the passion for equality is most intense, the leader who bases his claim to rule on a plébiscite is sure in the long run to win the day.

THE first duty which an Indian Secretary of State is usually called on to perform, after receiving the seals of office, is to receive a deputation from Manchester. Lord Salisbury has already undergone this, among other, ceremonies of initiation; and it is with pleasure we see that the representatives of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce who waited upon the new Secretary of State had no selfish or private end to gain, but were content to direct the Secretary's attention to what must be admitted to be a public grievance. A few years ago Mr. Graves, the member for Liverpool, whose premature death in 1873 was a sensible loss to the Tory party, carried against Mr. Gladstone's Government a resolution declaring it to be the opinion of the House of Commons that a mercantile member should be appointed to the Indian Council. Public opinion both at home and in India applauded this proposed change in the constitution of the governing body of a country possessing a most extensive and valuable commerce. The complete exclusion of merchants and men of business from the Council of India had long been felt to be a mistake, in the interest both of the Government itself and of the material prosperity of this country. Politicians and soldiers are, after all and at the best, but instruments employed to secure to the productive forces of a nation the means of working with the utmost facility and to the greatest advantage; and, unless they are constantly reminded by direct contact with representatives of the industrial and commercial classes that this is the sole purpose for which they have a right to exist, civil servants of experience and generals of renown are too apt to encourage one another in the belief that the world was made for men of their order, and that the art of government ought to be something apart from and superior to trade, instead of becoming its handmaid. On the other hand, it must be confessed that, when mercantile men are not tied down in any way by responsibilities of office and need have no fear that their own reputation will suffer damage from the mischievous results of measures undertaken by Government, they often concentrate all their energies on the pursuit of riches alone, and do not shrink from using the private influence which wealth gives them with people of official station to suggest the adoption by the State of speculative schemes which they would themselves, if they were in power, be the last men to sanction. Mr. Graves's resolution, then, only expressed a general feeling that the blending of the commercial with the political and military elements in the Council of India would be mutually beneficial to merchants and to trained servants of the Crown. The former, it was thought, would learn, by experience of the practical difficulties of administration and of the conflicting claims of various classes, that selfishness is not the highest statesmanship, and that the public purse ought not to be freely drawn upon for the advancement of special branches of trade; while the latter, it was believed, could not but enlarge their minds by converse with men skilled in business, and be led by degrees to understand that a State has nothing to lose but everything to gain by the adoption of a sound and enlightened policy in matters of financial and commercial legislation.

Mr. Grant Duff promised the House of Commons that the India Office would appoint a commercial member of Council; and he kept the word of promise to the ear by taking Sir Louis Mallet from the Board of Trade and giving him a seat in the Council of India. Sir Louis is a meritorious official who is understood to have been of great use to Mr. Bright when that right honourable gentleman presided at the Board of Trade, but of course the Duke of Argyll and Mr. Grant Duff knew that they were not really complying with the intention of the House of Commons by adding one more official to the Council instead of seeking out an independent mercantile recruit. So long, however, as Sir Louis Mallet remained in the Council, a pretence at all events was kept up of fulfilling the pledge given by Mr. Gladstone's Government to appoint a Councillor possessing some knowledge of commercial affairs. But a few weeks ago Mr. Herman Merivale's death left vacant at the India Office one of those Under-Secretaryships which have the advantage for the holders of being retained in the same hands in spite of Ministerial changes; and this appointment was at once conferred on Sir Louis Mallet. Instead, however, of nominating another representative of commerce to the vacant seat in Council, the Duke of Argyll gave the place to Sir George Campbell—a man who certainly is not a mere official, and who will be an excellent member of Council, but who nevertheless has no equitable claim to an appointment specially set apart for some one who should not be an official at all.

The members of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce had, therefore, a fair claim to be heard when they pointed out that trade is still without a representative in the Council of India; and we have no doubt, from the tenour of Lord Salisbury's reply, that the new Government will make an honest attempt to improve the character of the Council in the manner desired by the deputation. It will be remembered that an important part of the East India Bill brought in by the Tory Ministry in 1858, and fairly "talked out" of the House of Commons by the Liberal majority, was a proposal to give certain great towns in the United Kingdom the privilege of electing representatives to the Council at Westminster; and we shall not be at all surprised, knowing the tenacity with which Mr. Disraeli clings to his political ideas, if this project is revived now. The great towns throughout the United Kingdom, and especially in Lancashire, have shown at the recent elections so marked a partiality for Conservatism, that the new Ministry is bound to gratify their reasonable wishes; and it may, we think, be conceded that such towns as London, Liverpool, Manchester, and Glasgow take a much more intelligent interest in Indian affairs than the rest of the United Kingdom. The merchants of these cities have constant and intimate relations with the people of India; and it is undeniable that their [illegible] have helped to stay the progress of a ruinous land policy in this country, and have made [illegible] ment to construct useful public works. That Manchester, in particular, has had selfish ends in view may be admitted; but her interests as a rule coincide with those of India, and, where they differ, it is right that the voice of Manchester should be heard as to her opinions on commercial questions fairly discussed. There is too much of a tendency in India to ascribe to Manchester collectively all the foolish speeches made by Manchester men individually; but the action of such a public body as the Manchester Chamber of Commerce has almost uniformly been not merely fair but generous towards India. We do not, however, contend that Manchester should have a preponderating influence in the Home Government of India: all we ask is that she should be properly represented. Nor have we any hope that, without the safeguard of publicity, the Council of India will do much better work when some mercantile members are added to it than it has done while it has been a purely official board. Public opinion is the only real living power in these days, and where it has not full control there can be no wholesome life in the body politic. The men who shrink from facing it are invariably such men as ought not to be trusted. It would, we believe, be a far better security for good government to have the proceedings of the Council of India regularly submitted to public criticism, than to have the constitution of the Council changed; and one of our chief regrets in connexion with the general election is that Mr. Fawcett will probably be unable this Session to bring forward a proposal for compelling the Council of India to let reporters of the newspapers be present at its deliberations on questions of public policy.

THE BHENDY BAZAR RIOT.

AT the Fort Police Court on Monday, two Seedees were charged before Mr. Nana Morojee with rioting on the Bhendy Bazaar Road on the 13th February last. Mr. Pestonjee Cowasjee, solicitor, appeared to conduct the prosecution. The Magistrate postponed the hearing of the case sine die.

THE SONAPORE RIOTERS.

YESTERDAY, at the Girgaum Police Court, before Mr. Nana Morojee, the charge of rioting and being members of an unlawful assembly, preferred by Mr. Constable Brewin, against Heerjeebhoy Merwanjee and Pestonjee Merwanjee, was called on for hearing.

Mr. Chalk appeared for the defence.

Mr. Henry John Brewin was recalled and resworn. On examination by the Magistrate he said—I have known these two prisoners for about a couple of years These men had sticks in their hands during the time of the disturbance as aforesaid. Several persons were injured on the occasion of the aforesaid disturbance Some Seedees, some Parsees, and a havildar of police, named Ahmed Jaffer. Some of these people had their heads broken. To my personal knowledge the aforesaid havildar and a Parsee that had been injured were taken to the J. J. Hospital. The Parsee, after having been laid up some days, died in the hospital.

Mr. Frederick Austin said—I am an inspector of police, and do duty at Dhobie Talao. On Sunday, the 15th February, about ten o'clock in the morning, I accompanied a Mahomedan funeral procession, and went into the grave-yard. The Mahomedans set to dig a grave. Whilst they were so doing, some stones were thrown over the wall of the grave-yard. The stones came from the direction of Chundunwady Lane. I went to the wall of the grave yard and looked over it, and I saw a crowd of 250 or more Parsees in the lane, close to the Sonapore night soil depot, alongside of the grave-yard. Most of the Parsees were armed with sticks, bamboos, &c. They were throwing stones over the wall into the grave-yard, and shouting out and brandishing their sticks. I and some sepoys ju mpedover the wall into the street. At this time the Mahomedas commenced to throw stones from the grave-yard into the lane. When I had got into the lane, I ordered the Parsees to leave the place. They refused to do so. Some forty Seedees then came over the wall into the lane and made a rush towards the Parsees ; the police prevented the two parties from coming to blows, and compelled the Seedees to retire. As they retired the Parsees advanced. Some of the Seedees then turned round and drove the Parsees to the end of the lane. I saw several Parsees and Seedees injured, being struck with sticks. I also saw one Parsee struck with a stone ; he subsequently died in the hospital. Among the Parsees who were in the disturbance was prisoner No. 2 in the present case. I have known him for three or five years. I saw his face. I cannot say whether he had or had not a stick in his hand. I did not see him do anything except advance and retire with the mob. In the meanwhile, Mr. Superintendent Mills and a reinforcement of the police came, and the Seedees were put back into the grave-yard. When the Parsees were throwing stones from the aforesaid lane into the grave-yard, one of the stones hit a police havildar named Ahmed Jaffer on the head ; he is still laid up by the injury he had sustained there.

At the close of the case his Worship formally committed the two prisoners to take their trial at the ensuing Special Sessions of the High Court.

THE CHARGE OF THEFT AGAINST TWO EUROPEAN SOLDIERS.

EDWARD LEISTER and Thomas O'Donnell, two European soldiers, were yesterday charged on remand before Mr. Dosabhoy Framjee, Acting Senior Magistrate, the first with stealing currency notes, of the aggregate value of Rs. 200, the property of Captain R. A. Crawford, of H. M.'s 68th Regiment ; and the second with dishonestly receiving the same.

Walter Bellhouse said—I am a private in the 6th Regiment L. I. On the night of the 68th inst. I was out of camp, and I met a comrade named Tomlinson on leave. We went down towards Camateepoora and we met the first prisoner, Private Leister and Private Wilkes in a hotel there. The prisoner Private Leister called me in and asked me to have a drink, as he had plenty of money. I and my comrade, Private Tomlinson, drank beer with prisoner Leister and Private Wilkes—the prisoner Private Leister paid for the beer. The whole four of us left the house together. Afterwards I and the prisoner Leister and Private Wilkes got into a buggy and drove to a brothel, which we entered, and prisoner Leister gave a woman a fifty rupee note to change. After remaining there for a short time, we left and went up the street. I and the prisoner Leister then got into a buggy and drove to the Esplanade. I asked the prisoner Leister where he got all this money, and he made a statement. I knew at the time that the prosecutor, Captain Crawford, had complained of a theft of currency notes, and in consequence of the statement made by the first prisoner, Leister, I gave information to Captain Crawford.

Several other witnesses were examined, after which the Magistrate committed the prisoners to stand their trial at the ensuing Criminal Sessions of the High Court.

THE LAST MOVE OF GOVERNMENT.

THE following copy of a correspondence between Sir Jamsetjee Jejeeboy and the Commissioner of Police has been handed to us for publication :—

Bombay, 14th March.

My dear Sir Jamsetjee,—As it seems to be the opinion of many, and particularly those of your community, that the riot which took place on the 13th had been premeditated and that it was not an accidental ebullition of class malevolence, I am most anxious, in addition to the searching enquiries I have already made by means of the detective force at my command, to institute a close investigation by some other channel and altogether unconnected with my paid detectives. It is thought that the Mahomedan prisoners now awaiting trial can reveal some information which might throw light on the matter. I therefore propose to secure the services of one or two intelligent Mahomedan gentlemen with whom I would wish to associate one or more Parsees and perhaps a Hindoo or two to form themselves into a sort of committee to examine each of the prisoners separately. I would arrange that a police officer (probably Mr. Elginton or myself) should always be present, and I think under the promise of pardon, which I know Government would authorise me to offer, we should, under such an arrangement, be able to ascertain whether the riot was premeditated or not, and if it was we should by this means be able to get at the chief instigators.

I write to you therefore, as the head of your community, to ask if you will kindly nominate one or more Parsees in whom you may all have confidence for the purpose mentioned, and I feel sure that Government will be glad to remunerate any gentlemen who may kindly lend their services in this manner. I do not intend that the enquiries so organised should be confined to the prisoners awaiting trial, but any other information which the members so associated could bring forward calculated to throw light on the main points, viz. whether the riot was premeditated or not, would be carefully gone into by me.—Believe me, yours sincerely,

F. H. SOUTER,
Commissioner of Police.

The Hon'ble Sir Jamsetjee Jejeebhoy, Bart., C.S.I.

Mazagon Castle, 15th March 1874.

My dear Mr. Souter,—I consulted with a few leading members of our community on the subject of your letter of yesterday. We feel that after the meeting of Parsees at Mazagon Castle last week it would be advisable to submit our letter to the committee which was appointed on that occasion, but before doing so I should be glad to know your wishes whether you have any objection to my handing over your letter as proposed.—Believe me, yours sincerely,

JAMSETJEE JEJEEBHOY.

F. H. Souter, Esq., C.S.I.

Police Commissioner's Office, Bombay, 16th March 1874

My dear Sir Jamsetjee,—Pray make any use you think proper of my letter of the 14th. I shall, however, be glad of an early decision in the matter, as I am anxious these additional enquiries as proposed by me shall be instituted without delay.—Yours sincerely, (Signed) FRANK H. SOUTER.

Sir Jamsetjee Jejeebhoy, Bart., C.S.I.

Mazagon Castle, Bombay, 17th March 1874.

My dear Mr. Souter,—In reply to your letter dated 14th March 1874, I have to state that I have laid it before the committee referred to in my last letter, together with several of the leading gentlemen of the Parsee community, and they have decided to decline to act on your suggestion that I should nominate one or more Parsees as members of a committee for enquiring into the question whether the late Mahomedan riots were premeditated or not.

It appears to me in the first place that I have no authority to appoint the members of any such committee as you propose nor to delegate to them any powers whatever.

In the second place, I am of opinion that such a committee, if appointed as you suggest, would be entirely without any legally recognised authority to conduct the proposed enquiry, or indeed to put any question whatever to any one or more of the prisoners.

In the third place, I fail to see what object would be attained by such an enquiry conducted by a committee so constituted, even supposing that any of the Mahomedan prisoners now in custody were willing, on an offer of pardon, to divulge the names of the instigators of the riots in the presence of the Mahomedan members of the committee. We think that such a result would be yet more easily attained by an offer of pardon privately made, and I think that the fact of such an offer having been made by, or in the presence of, such a committee as you suggest, if elicited in the Sessions Court by the counsel for the prisoners in cross-examination, would make it almost impossible to obtain a conviction in any case in which evidence was given induced by such an offer.

Lastly, I think that for the purposes merely of a judicial investigation into the conduct of those concerned in the late riots, the police both can and ought to collect evidence at least as efficiently as such a committee as you propose, while for any other purpose an enquiry by a committee into the circumstances connected with the late riots ought certainly not to be confined to the one question which you mention.

For the above reasons it is decided to decline the invitation contained in your letter to me, but I shall be ready at all times to give you any information in my power which may tend to throw light on the origin of the late riots.

Of course in declining to nominate the members of such a committee as you propose, it must not be supposed that we in any way object to the appointment by yourself, or by the Government, of any gentleman who may be willing to act as a member.—Believe me, &c.

HIGH COURT DECREES.

At the High Court yesterday, the following short causes were heard before the Hon. Mr. Justice Marriott :—

THE LONDON, ASIATIC, AND AMERICAN COMPANY v. SHURIFF SALAY MAHOMED.

Mr. P. M. Mehta, for the defendant, asked for a week's postponement. Mr. Pigot, instructed by Messrs. Craigie, Lynch, and Owen, for the plaintiffs, consented ; and the case was postponed for a week.

THAVURDAS KHEMCHUND v. LALCHUND MEGHJEE AND ANOTHER.

Mr. Deshmookh, instructed by Messrs. Shapurjee and Thakurdas, for the plaintiff, asked for a postponement for five months on the ground that one of the defendants had died, and the other, who was at Muscat, had not yet been served. His Lordship ordered plaintiff to make an affidavit stating the above circumstances ; and, meanwhile, ordered the case to stand over for a week.

GUNPUTHOW SHAMRAO v. WITTOBA CHUSHNAJEE AND ANOTHER.

Mr. Telang, instructed by Mr. Shamrao, on behalf of the second defendant, applied for a week's postponement. The case had been three or four times before Mr. Justice Pinhey, who ordered it to stand over until the second defendant should obtain a probate of her late husband's will. The probate has not yet been granted. Mr. Mayhew, instructed by Messrs. Leathes, Crawford and Bowey, for the plaintiff, consented, and the application was accordingly granted.

THE COMMERCIAL BANK CORPORATION v. MICHAEL CARNEY AND ANOTHER.

Mr. Ferguson, instructed by Messrs. Craigie, Lynch, and Owen, for the plaintiffs. The first defendant appeared in person ; there was no appearance for the second defendant, the wife of the first. The action was brought to recover Rs. 1,112, the balance due in respect of two calls made on twenty-one shares standing in the name of the second defendant. The Court gave a decree, on plaintiff's application, against the second defendant only for Rs. 1,112, with interest and costs. It appeared in evidence that the first defendant threatened to shoot the Sheriff's bailiff who went to effect service of the summons on the second defendant, for which this Lordship severely reprimanded him, telling him he had rendered himself liable to be committed for contempt of Court. Defendant said the bailiff was an old friend, that he was only joking with him, and that he had no intention whatever to shoot him. His Lordship said it was not to be tolerated that Sheriff's bailiffs should be restrained in the exercise of their duty on any pretence whatever.

DHUNRAJ KIRPARAM v. CHUTTERBHOOJ KEETSEY AND OTHERS.

Mr Farran, instructed by Mr. J. C. Cama, appeared for the plaintiff. The first defendant appeard in person The action was brought to recover monies due under an adjusted account. It appeared on enquiry that the account in certain Khangaum books had not been included in the adjustment ; and his Lordship therefore ordered the case to stand over for a month.

MEETHEEBAEE WIDOW v. PARVUTTEEBAEE WIDOW.

Mr. Farran, instructed by Mr. Pestonjee Kavasjee, appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. Badroodin, instructed by Mr. M. H. Khan, for the defendant. Mr. Farran said the action was brought to recover money due on a deed of sale. Plaintiff purchased a house of Heerabaee, widow, who claimed it under a will. The defence was that the will was a forgery. His Lordship had directed in a suit on the Ecclesiastical side of the Court that the will should be proved in solemn form ; and Mr. Farran proposed that this case should stand over until after his Lordship's decision in the Ecclesiastical suit. The case was postponed accordingly.

LALJEE NARAYENJEE v. HAJEE ADAM HAJEE JAGOR.

Mr. P. M. Mehta, instructed by Mr. M. B. Barbhaya, appeared for the plaintiff. The suit was brought to recover Rs. 2,000 due on a promissory note dated 4th December 1872, executed by defendant to Rahimtoola Ibrahim, who had endorsed it over to the plaintiff. His Lordship gave a decree for plaintiff for Rs. 2,000 with interest and costs.

MOOLJEE TEJOOMDAS v. BHIMBHOY LULLOOBHOY.

Mr. Lang, instructed by Messrs Jefferson and Payne, appeared for the plaintiff ; and Mr. Serjeant Atkinson and Mr. Jackson, instructed by Mr. V. Hurrichund, for the defendant.

Mr. Lang said the defendant had obtained advances of money on goods deposited as security with the plaintiff, who had power to sell them. Defendant did not take away the goods, which were sold by plaintiff, who now sued him for Rs. 5,000, the balance due to him by defendant.

Mr. Serjeant Atkinson said this was eminently a long cause, and he had no less than thirteen witnesses named on his brief.

After some discussion, his Lordship directed the case to go into the long cause list : costs of the day to be costs in the cause.

KHALAKDHENA KALFANBHOY v. ARDASIR DHUNJEEBHOY WADIA AND ANOTHER.

Mr. Mayhew, instructed by Messrs. Hearn, Cleveland and Peile, appeared for the plaintiff. There was no appearance for the defendants. The suit was brought to recover Rs. 1,458, the balance of principal and interest due on a mortgage bond dated 22nd January 1868. His Lordship gave a decree for plaintiff for Rs. 1,458, with interest, Rs. 37 expenses, and costs, and further interest on the judgment until payment.

DULSOOKSOY RAMLAL v. JAMNADASS VIZLAL.

Mr. Macpherson, instructed by Mr. J. C. Cama, for the plaintiff, applied with defendant's consent for a fortnight's postponement. The case was postponed accordingly.

HARRIVULLBUEDASS CULLIANDAS v. IBRAHIM MAHASIN RAJAB.

Mr. Macpherson, instructed by Messrs. Craigie, Lynch, and Owen, appeared for the plaintiff ; and Mr. Lang, instructed by Messrs. Hearn, Cleveland, and Peile, for the defendant. Mr. Lang applied that the case be transferred to the long cause list. After some discussion, the parties agreed to a consent decree. His Lordship accordingly gave judgment for plaintiff for Rs. 14,200, with interest at 9 per cent. per annum on Rs. 15,600 from the 29th September 1873 to 13th January 1874, and for her interest on Rs. 14,200 from 13th January 1874 up to date, costs as between attorney and client, and interest on the judgment at 6 per cent. until payment.

KOTH SUCCESSION CASE.

BEFORE THE HON. THE CHIEF JUSTICE, and the Hon. SIR CHARLES SARGENT.
Friday, 13th March.

Roopaliba had been brought into Court in a palkee covered with a large scarlet cloth, as a substitute for a purda, which was placed in the jury box, Mr. Inverarity proposed to identify her by means of her brother, Keshrosing, Keshrosing Bhopatsingjee was then called and examined by Mr. Inverarity, he said—I am the brother of Roopaliba. I looked inside of that palkee just now. Roopaliba is inside and no one else.

Roopaliba was then sworn inside of the palkee, and said—I am the widow of Bhugwatsingjee Cumsingjee the late Thakore of Koth, who died on the 4th of November 1869. At the time of his death I was pregnant, and previously to his death the ceremony of filling the lap had been performed. It is a ceremony performed in the seventh month of pregnancy. My husband was aware that I was pregnant and that this ceremony was performed. There were other people present at the ceremony, but my husband was in the durbar. It is not the custom that he should be present. It is a ceremony at which only women and one or two priests are present. At the ceremony with regard to me a priest named Vishwanath, and about two hundred women were present. Previously to his death my husband gave me this document (a will was shown to Roopaliba). I know my husband's signature. This is it affixed to the document. I asked my husband what this document was, and he said "I am sick and no reliance can be placed on life, and this document will be of use to you." I afterwards proved the document to be my husband's will in the District Court at Ahmedabad. A certificate was then given to me by the Court. On the day my husband died, all the property of the Koth estate was attached by order of Mr. Richie. Orders were also given to the mody not to supply the necessaries of life to the durbar. The mody is the supplier of provisions to the durbar. This was done after the examination was made as to my pregnancy. Some 15 or 16 days after my husband's death my person was examined by a European midwife. I was found by her to be pregnant. After that the order was given by Mr. Richie that the durbar should not be supplied on credit, and my brother, Keshrosing, and my karbaree were also ordered to leave Koth. Mr. Richie also seized the villages which had been given to me by my husband. After my brother left Koth I engaged one Dalsookram to act as my karbaree. I subsequently gave birth to a child. That was on the 13th Possood, Samvat 1926, (16th of January 1870). The child was a boy, and was afterwards named Rumalsingjee. That boy is now alive and in Bombay.

Dalsookram Hirgovindas was then called and examined by Mr. Macpherson, he said ; I am the karbaree of the plaintiff Roopaliba. I entered her service in December, or the latter part of November 1869. Before that I was vaonim to the firm of Curroomchund Premchund at Ahmedabad. On reaching Koth I found the taluka under arrest. There were police guards round the durbar, who searched every person connected with the durbar, on entering or leaving the durbar house. Soon after I took charge as karbaree Mr. Richie remonstrated with me for taking service with the plaintiff, and said that if I came to harm through the sirkaree people, it should be my own fault. He told me it didn't become me as a respectable man to take service with her. Soon after I took charge as karbaree I saw Roopaliba, and she appeared to me to be pregnant. I was in Koth in the durbar house when Rumalsingjee was born. I wrote to Mr. Richie of the birth of the boy, three days after that Mr. Richie came to Koth and examined the boy. I was not allowed to be present at that examination, by Mr. Richie's order. I saw the boy about a month after his birth. We are not allowed to see him before he is a month old by our religion. None of the dependants of the family are allowed to see him. The rule applies to both male and female children. I am a follower of Vishnu, and am of the Koonbee caste. Roopaliba and her husband were Rajpotes. The rule of the Rajkotes is the same in respect of seeing a newly born child, Miriam, a female servant of Roopaliba's, told me of the birth of the child. She told me on the day it occurred. Since I first saw the child I have seen him almost daily. I saw him today. In March 1870 Roopaliba, her mother, her brothers and some of her servants were charged before Mr. Johns with cheating a European midwife. An application was made to the High Court to transfer the case from Mr. Johns. The High Court refused the application, and recommended Mr. Johns to commit the case to the Ahmedabad Sessions Court. The prosecution before Mr. Johns was conducted by the Government pleader, and the case was committed to Mr. Coglan for trial. Government retained an English barrister from Bombay to prosecute in the Sessions Court All the accused were acquitted. Mr. Richie gave evidence before Mr. Coglan, and soon after he left India and returned in two years. I remember the proceedings in June, 1870, before Mr. Melville about the certificate of heirship and guardian-ship. The cross-examining of witnesses in that proceeding took place in October. Mr. Melville's order granting Roopaliba the certificate was on the 20th of October. Early in November 1870 I made an application to Mr. Borrodaile to make over the talookas to Roopaliba on the strength of the certificate, and was told that nothing could be done till I prove the certificate. I immediately applied to Mr. Barradaile for the loss of a stamped paper, or a grant of the money to get a stamped paper, to claim the certificate. After that I made oral demands for satisfaction for handing over the talookas, and early in March 1871 I put the matter in the hands of Messrs. Jefferson and Payne. In September 1871 Messrs. Jefferson and Payne received a letter from Mr. Crowe stating the decision of Government. On hearing of this I applied at Ahmedabad to Mr. Pratt for delivery of the talookas. Mr. Pratt then ordered the immoveable property to be made over to Roopaliba, but the moveable property to be kept till further orders. The immoveable property was handed over to me together with the notes for Rs. 84,000. The latter were unendorsed. On the 9th of October I took them to Mr Borrodaile with the request that he would endorse them. He said I should keep the notes, and wait until he received an answer from the Accountant General whom he had consulted. I took back the notes and kept them four or five months.

During that time Messrs. Jafferson and Payne were corresponding with the Collector and Government on my behalf. The notes were finally re-delivered by me to Mr. Borrodaile in April 1872. They were never returned to me. I gave back the notes to have them endorsed. Stamps were ultimately purchased in February 1872, and a certificate obtained by Roopaliba in July. The immoveable property was made over to Roopaliba by Mr. Pratt, in September 1873. I remember Mr. Newnham's order suspending Roopaliba's certificate in September 1873. Within twenty-four hours of that order all the plaintiff's karbarees were removed from office, and the Government took charge.

The maintenance villages were not taken charge of.

Keshrosing, Roopaliba's brother, and Miriam, a servant, were next examined, as well as two witnesses who attested the Thakore's will.

There were other witnesses whom Mr. Macpherson said he did not think it necessary to call. This closed the plaintiff's case.

The Court then adjourned for tiffin.

EXTRACTS FROM THE JOURNAL OF THE YARKUND AND KASHGAR MISSION.

December 1873, 27th, Saturday.—Syud Yakoob Khan called on Mr. Forsyth and conveyed the approval of His Highness the Ameer to the use of Theodolite, Camera, and Geological hammer as might be desiredt The Ameer was glad to hear that the officers though. of going out shooting and sent to say that they had but to say where they wished to go and every arrangement would be made.

30th, Tuesday.—Mr. Forsyth and party visited the shrine of Hazrat-i-Apák, which lies to the east of the city, and about one mile distance from the bridge over the Kizzil Hazrat-i-Apák. Apák (Afak) is a religious title accorded to Khwaja Idyat, a direct descendant in the fourth generation of Huzrut Makhdoom-ool-Azim. The date of his death is fixed at 175 years ago : he ruled in Kashgar some 15 or 20 years. The direct representative of this saintly Chief is Hakim Khan, who is now Governor of Toorfan.

The party were received by the Mutawallee Bashi and were in the first instance conducted to an admirably arranged Mudrassa, which has been built on the lands attached to the shrine by the Beg Batchs, the eldest son of the Ameer ; this contains 13 good rooms for resident students, besides a masjed ; like many of the more recent erections at Kashgar it is built of brick. The Mutawallee next conducted Mr. Forsyth round the tomb and through the garden belonging to it. The tomb is a square building with a flat roof having four small minarets at the corners ; it is decorated with glazed tiles of a green color but of inferior make. Horns of the Marsal (stag), Ovis Poli, and Ibex, which have been brought as votive offerings, are placed in every available niche, and a large stack of horns of all kinds stands in the open portion of the surrounding court-yard. No objection was made to sketching and information was readily given by the Mutawallee, who is a Hajee. One of his attendants had for four years kept a shop at Ismaila, and was present at the opening of the Suez Canal. The Hajee informed us that we were the first Europeans who had entered the sacred precincts of the shrine of Hazrat-i-Apak.

After the usual Dastarkhwan the party proceeded to the city to the residence of the Dadkhwab ; we were recived with the same ceremony as on the occasion of our first visit. Mr. Forsyth, however, declined to use the chairs provided for us, and we adopted the Toorkee fashion of sitting ; a Dastarkhwan of 87 dishes was served, our hosts joining us in eating and entering freely into conversation on all subjects ; he promised assistance in procuring such books as were obtainable, and animals living and dead for the collections in course of making. It was arranged that a day should be fixed for visiting the various tombs, &c., of the city when the Dadkhwah said he hoped to show Mr. Forsyth all the lions.

When returning Mr. Forsyth looked in at two of the large Andrjanee serais and was welcomed in either case by the chief resident merchant, who complained that he was not allowed by us to provide tea and the usual refreshments for a welcome guest. These gentlemen were, however, promised another visit and the party returned home.

Thermometer in the sun did not rise higher than 31° F.

31st, Wednesday, Minimum Thermometer recorded 10 F.

Lieutenant-Colonel Gordon, Dr. Stoliczka, and Captain Trotter started for Artash.

The baggage of the entire party consisted of six pony-loads, and each officer was accompanied by but two servants. Captain Trotter carried a heliotrope for the purpose of establishing signal communication with the Ilchikhana. The party was attended by Kareem Akhoon Dah-bashi ; all arrangements will be made by the Beg of Artash for accommodation and provisions, no mess nor even cooking utensils being provided from the Mission.

Captain Biddulph proceeded in the direction of the Maral Bashi, accompanied by Sopbi Panja-Bashi.

The Mission has now been for two months in the territory of the Ameer of Kashgar and Yarkund, and as already recorded opportunities of observing the character of the people, their manners and customs and mode of living have been frequent. Since leaving Sanju we have everywhere felt satisfied of the thriving condition of the Ameer's subjects, who are well housed, well clothed, and well fed ; that they are an industrious people, free from prejudice, and ready to accept the improvements which may be introduced by their more civilized neighbours there can be no manner of doubt. The population of the country appears to have been greatly over-estimated judging by hitherto published accounts, but it is rapidly on the increase. The amount of land under cultivation is more than sufficient for the wants of the people, but large tracts of country still remain waste, which need but additional hands and the extension of the existing system of irrigation to be converted into fruitful districts. Manufactures in the larger sense there are none but felts and carpets, and silk and cotton cloths are made up in large quantities at Koten and elsewhere. Cotton is exported in large quantities towards Andijam and Khokand and is there manufactured.

Gold, copper, iron, and coal are found in the territories of the Ameer, and the value of the last named mineral is enhanced by the limited supply of wood for fuel ; skilled labour and scientific appliances for the development of these resources are greatly needed. The opportunity is favourable for the introduction of machinery and for assistance in the establishment of manufactories ; so far as can be judged the people need but little teaching, they are apt pupils, and give evidence of considerable mechanical talent. There is reason to hope that the Ameer will devote his attention to matters of so much importance to the future prosperity of his country. The two-wheeled carts in use throughout the country are of superior make, carrying about 10 cwt. They are drawn by four or more ponies, one always being in the shafts and the remainder harnessed in line in front ; carts of this description run at fixed hours to and from Yangi Shahr and the city of Kashgar, a fixed fare being paid by passengers, as with omnibus conveyances in England and elsewhere. The introduction of a silver coinage will greatly facilitate trade transactions of all kinds.

Since the start of the Mission from Murree a great deal has been done in the department of natural history and geology ; the collections already made will prove valuable possessions. Every assistance in procuring specimens is given by the officials of the Ameer. No opportunity of adding to geographical information has been lost ; the Survey Department attached to the Embassy has been actively employed from the outset.

Thursday, 1st January 1874.—Ibrahim Khan and party started for Cabul ; he was accompanied by three servants and had seven horses belonging to the Mission.

On the part of the Ameer, Mahomed Hossein Dah-bashi, goes with the party as far as Chichik Aylak and Mahomed Takhta, private soldier, proceeds to Punja.

Friday, 2nd January.—Received post-bag with latest dates from England, October ; Lahore, 20th November ; Ladakh, 1st December.

Monday, 5th January.—Syud Yakoob Khan Tora called on Mr Forsyth ; in the course of conversation he mentioned that he had every reason to believe that His Highness the Ameer would make no objections to the terms of the Treaty proposed, and that before long a day would be fixed for its formal conclusion. He invited Mr Forsyth and party to dine at his house on Thursday evening, the 8th.

Tuesday, 6th January.—Minimum Thermometer recorded 3 F.

Wednesday, 7th January.—The following are the measurements taken from the specimen of the Ovis Poli presented on the 31st December.

Corresponding dimensions taken from Marco Polo, Volume II, page 167.

	Inches.	Inches.
Length of one horne on curve	48	56
Round the base	14	144
Distance of tips apart ...	31	45

The specimen in the possession of the Mission gives a height of 42 inches at the shoulder ; the one with which the comparison is made was presented by Wood to the Royal Asiatic Society.

Thursday, 8th January.—Mr. Forsyth, Dr. Bellew, and Captain Chapman dined with Syud Yakoob Khan Tora at his residence. On arrival of our party coffee and cigarettes were handed round and a Dastarkhan was served ; this was about 3 P. M., and we remained for dinner, which was brought on the table about 7, P.M. Our host expressed himself anxious for the introduction of European manners and customs into Eastern Turkistan ; the dinner given in our honor was to inaugurate the change. We sat at table after our own fashion, and were provided with knives and forks spoons and table napkins, our plates being of the best China. A number of side dishes were handed round, each of which bore testimony to the skill of the Syud's Aash-paz ; the cookery was excellant, and the silent attendance of two domestics left little to be desired. Kimis (mare's milk) was placed on the table in glass decanters.

Conversation was carried on with ease throughout our long visit, and turned upon a variety of topics, the opinions of Syud Yakoob Khan on all subjects being given with an extreme liberality such as is rarely met with.

The demand for cotton cloths of local manufacture is so great that no matter how large a quantity is offered for sale at the weekly bazaars it is immediately purchased.

Cotton cloths and cotton are exported largely towards Andijan, the principal merchants in Kashgar having agents who buy up as much as may be produced.

There are two kinds of cotton cloths exported.—

1st.—Chukman, width ¾ yard, length of piece 18 yards, from 4 tangas to 16 tangas the piece, according to quality.

2nd.—Kham width ¾ yard, length of piece 8 yards from 1½ tangas to 3½ tangas.

ADVERTISING AT RAILWAY STATIONS.

THE Proprietor of the "Bombay Gazette"

Press having leased (among other privileges) from the Great Indian Peninsula Railway Company, and the Bombay, Baroda, and Central India Railway Company, the exclusive right of advertising at all the Railway Stations belonging to these two Companies, is prepared to contract with parties desirous of posting Notices or Advertisements on the lines.

The announcements may be in English or in any of the Native languages.

The advantages which Railway Stations present as a means of bringing intimations of all kinds before the public have been demonstrated in England by the extensive use which is made by Advertisers, of every station, great and small, along every line in the United Kingdom.

Insurance Companies, Shipping Companies, Hotel-keepers, Merchants, Traders, and others who wish to force their business on the notice of the Public, all alike value the privilege of Railway Station Advertising.

There is no reason why the privilege should not be also specially valuable to Advertisers in India. Looking to the great and increasing number of Native Railway Passengers on the two great lines of Western India, native merchants, traders, &c., seeing that they have the privilege of advertising in their own language, would find the publication of their announcement at Railway Stations a decided means of extending their business.

AND as nearly ALL TRAVELLERS ARRIVING IN INDIA NOW LAND AT BOMBAY, and proceed by the G. I. P. or B. B. and C. I. Railways to their destination, Placards exhibited at the different Stations on those lines are every day becoming more and more valuable as means of bringing the Advertisers' business to the notice of the Public.

Advertisers can select the Stations, on either line, at which they wish their Placards posted, and may advertise for any period that may be agreed on. The charges have been fixed on an extreme y moderate scale to encourage Advertisers to make a liberal use of the new means now offered of making announcements known to the Public.

Placards, according to the taste of Advertisers, may be printed at the "Bombay Gazette" Press.

HEALTH RESTORED
BY THE USE OF BRISTOL'S
SUGAR-COATED VEGETABLE PILLS.

These Pills have justly acquired a widely-extended reputation for their wonderful cures of severe cases of sickness—cases in which all other Medicines had failed, and which had been given up by Physicians as beyond help—such as confirmed and long-standing Liver Complaints, obstinate cases of Piles, Dropsy, &c., &c. But while admitting their wonderful curative powers in difficult cases, we wish to call attention to their great value in the every-day diseases of life, such as COSTIVENESS, for which they are a perfect specific; HEADACHE, relieved and cured by one dose; INDIGESTION always removed by them, and the stomach so toned and strengthened as to prevent a return. BAD BREATH cannot exist when the stomach is cleansed by

BRISTOL'S SUGAR-COATED PILLS.

PURELY VEGETABLE.

For LOSS OF APPETITE they are the only sure remedy, as they never fail in carrying off the depraved bilious secretions that float in the stomach and destroy the healthy, natural craving for food. Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Flatulency, and all Derangements of the Digestive and Excretory organs are promptly relieved and cured by them. The public should always bear in mind that Bristol's are the only Pills made of

PODOPHYLLIN AND LEPTANDRIN,

the only vegetable substances yet discovered that are really

to the presence of which invaluable resinoids the extraordinary success of Bristol's Pills may in a great measure be ascribed. It is necessary, however, that the sick should always remember that in all diseases that have their origin in the blood, that best of blood-purifiers, should be used with the Pills, the two Medicines being prepared expressly to act in harmony together. When this is done faithfully, we have no hesitation in saying that great relief, and, in most cases, a cure, can be guaranteed, when the patient is not already beyond human help.

For general directions and table of doses, see the wrapper around each phial of Pills; but as different constitutions require different doses to produce the same effect, it is better that each person ascertain by trial, the dose that suits their system, and take that dose, instead of following any general rule.
